ABOUT ALACATI

Alacati is an Aegean town on the western coast of Izmir Province in Anatolia which has been famous for its architecture, vineyards, olive trees, lavender fields and windmills for over 150 years.

It has now made its name in the world of windsurfing and kitesurfing, with its crystal clear water, consistent and steady wind and well acclaimed hospitality.

Alacati is one of the most authentic towns in Anatolia with stone houses, narrow streets, boutique hotels and restaurants with tables on the streets.

The newspaper tells the best about Alacati;

Dating back to around the 14th century, the town is an unpretentious place, scattered with ivory-coloured stone houses and rustic boutique hotels with old wooden doors and pastel-hued window shutters draped with purple and pink bougainvillea.
